

FOR A DRIVERS LICENSE IN THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO

If you hold a drivers license from your home country, which was issued in the past 24 months or earlier, you are eligible to apply for a G-2 without a wait period, although you are required to write the G-1 written exam.

Documents required:

1. I.D (passport, visa)
2. Photographs
3. Required fees

Upon submitting the above documents, you can take the G-1 written test, which, upon completion allows you to book an appointment for the G-2 driving test.

-Usually a couple of driving lessons are required to become familiarized with local road laws. There are a multitude of different driving schools that can be found in the Yellow Pages.

Upon successful completion of G-1 and G-2 exams you will receive a G-2 license that allows you to drive in Canada.

The handbook available for preparation for the written test can be purchased in any convenience store or can be purchased online at www.mto.gov.on.ca
